Farm Union Elects New Leaders

By OVID A. MARTIN
DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The National Farmers Union has turned its leadership to two men who, leaders believe, will work together ideally to achieve the organization's goals of higher farm incomes and a larger membership.

Tony T. Dechant, 50, of Denver, secretary-treasurer since 1946, was elected president by the organization's annual convention which closed Wednesday night. He succeeds James O. Patton who retired after 25 years of leadership.

Working with Dechant will be Edwin Christianson, 56, of St. Paul, president of the Minnesota Farmers Union, who was elected vice president to succeed Glenn J. Talbot, a long-time North Dakota farm leader who also retired.

Dechant, a quiet-spoken man who moves with the assurance of a business executive, contrasts sharply with Patton, a husky, militant and driving crusader for welfare programs at home and abroad.

Dechant knows more members of the Farmers Union than any other leader of the organization. Friends said he knows best how to widen the base of the organization's membership, now heavily concentrated in the Great Plains, the upper Corn Belt, and the Rocky Mountain states.

By the same token, Christianson was looked upon as an ideal assistant to work the Washington beat for the organization, where much effort is waged in behalf of farm legislation and administration decisions on that legislation.

Christianson is a close personal friend of two top leaders in the Johnson administration — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman — both of whom also are Minnesotans.

Hospital Costs Less Than Smokes

CHICAGO (AP) — Americans spend more for tobacco than for hospital care, the American Medical Association's AMA News says.

The publication also says more is spent in the United States on cosmetics, haircuts and toiletries than for doctor bills.

Quoting U.S. Department of Commerce figures, the AMA News said Americans spend $14.4 billion for physicians and hospitals, and $14.8 for tobacco and haircuts and toiletries.

TV Dinners Not Needed After Failure

NEW YORK (AP) — Gemini 8 astronauts hurtling in space this week will be feasting on space-age versions of TV dinners.

Most of the food is freeze dried, like the fruit in breakfast cereal, or made into bite size chunks. That way, it only takes a cubic foot to store enough food for a man for two weeks.

A typical meal will include beef pot roast with gravy — slipped from a tube, potato salad, toast, orange drink, pudding and bitesize brownies.

The meals will cost about $28 apiece, expensive enough to almost make budgeting shoppers on earth forget the woes of the winter.

Pork prices dropped again this week. Hams are down 3 to 4 cents a pound, fresh pork loins 2 to 4 cents and sliced cured bacon 1 to 6 cents. Lamb prices also are lower.

Butter, which has jumped 8 cents a pound the last month, is down this week.

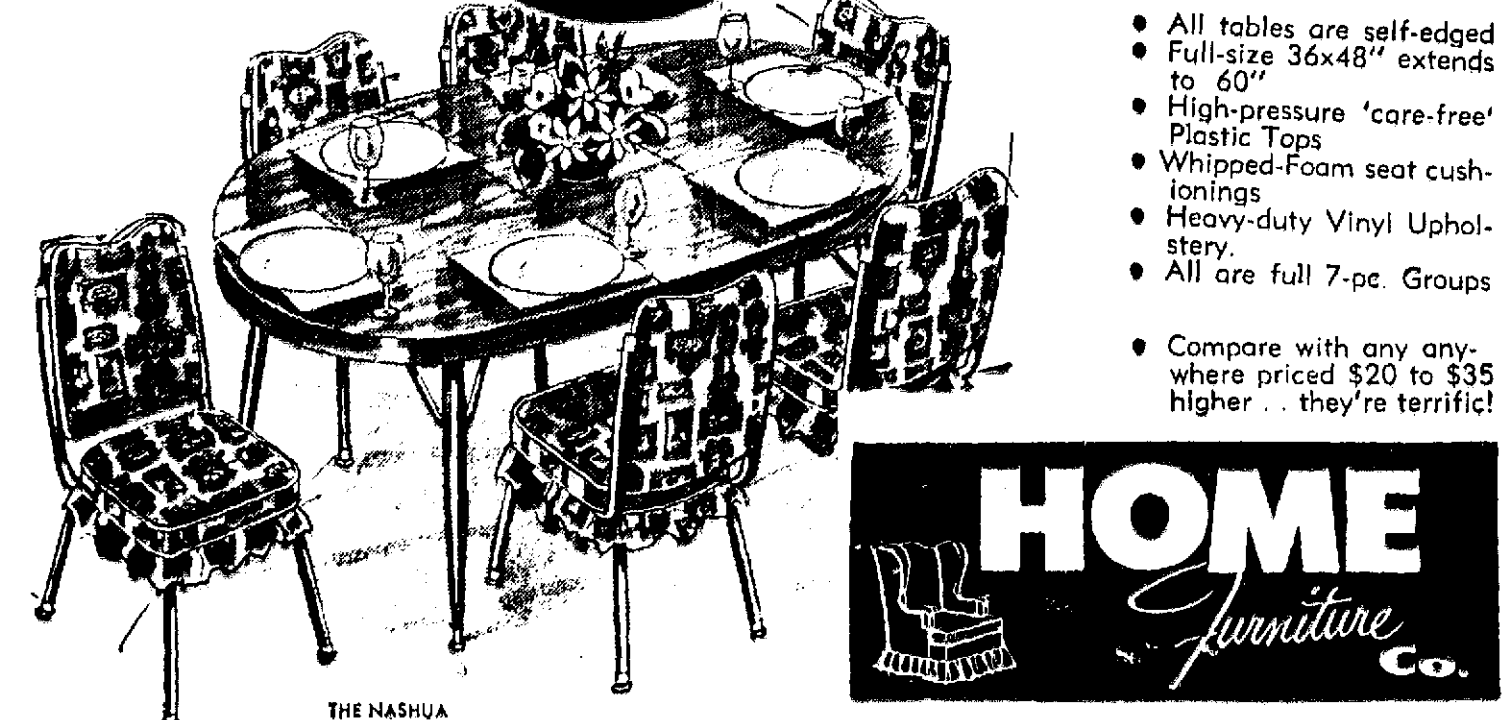

Broccoli, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, endive, onions, green peppers, potatoes, sweet potatoes, tomatoes, avocados, beets, parsley, radishes, rhubarb, spinach, parsnips, turnips, leeks and greens are moving to market.

Cairo, Egypt, is named after the planet Mars—El Qahira in Arabic.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Americans, "wallowing in a sixth unbroken year of prosperity," are in the middle of a credit explosion — which may or may not be a good thing.

A lot of us are in debt to the tune of $315 billion, in mortgages on 90 per cent of our homes, 60 per cent of our automobiles, 50 per cent of our department store purchases and a lot of other things besides.

"CBS Reports" Tuesday night took a stern look at our credit-card, cashless society, and the competition by banks and loan companies to attract borrowers. Most of all, it seemed concerned about the public's ignorance and lack of concern about the high interest rates it was paying.

Economists on the program were split in their opinions. One thought the extension of credit was a fine thing since it allowed young couples to acquire things that another generation had to wait for until middle age when they had saved their money. Others suggested that if the supply of credit were cut off, production would be cut because goods could not move, with resulting unemployment and a decrease in the Gross National Product.

Other economists and Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., seemed most worried that few borrowers knew how much they were really paying in interest. "If you are charged 1 1/2 per cent a month, you are paying 18 per cent a year," explained the narrator, Alexander Kendrick.

Kendrick interviewed three families who had become "over-extended," which means deep in debt. One woman whose husband makes $6,000 a year told of borrowing several hundred dollars and of going on a shopping spree and charging $1,800 worth of toys and gifts — on impulse.

Youth Asked For It!
This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help US!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help US! this newspaper.

When Can A Girl Call A Boy?
Dear Helen: Why can't a girl call a boy just to talk? I don't agree on your answer to "I," that a girl must have a real good reason or stay off the horn.

There is a boy I know quite well. I only met him this year and we don't date, yet I call him anytime. Whenever he calls me, and one of us has to get off, he will usually say "Call me later, huh?" and I say "Yeah if I can." So I call and say "Hi" and away we go.

Now why, why, WHY not? Maybe it doesn't go in etiquette books or charm schools, but this boy and I are the best of friends, we confide a lot in each other, and nobody's chasing anybody. Okay, Helen? — 16-Year-Old Boy Caller

Dear Helen: A honk on the horn is okay — for your "just friend" relationship. But not okay for date-baiters. And boys know when girls are "horning" in, don't doubt it! — H.

Dear Helen: I'm a girl of 16 and when I tell you what I've done, you'll probably look down on me. But don't, please don't. Your column is for those who need help and I certainly need it NOW.

I'm not trying to brag, but I AM built, and I get loads of dates, but most of them are hoods. I go with guys about 20 to 24 years old and I get drunk, but I can take care of myself — or thought so. My folks have taken off and I'm staying with my grandmother, and if they couldn't manage me, how is she expected to?

Well, there's this wild, wild guy, but he's so cute, you just don't KNOW. I went out with him and we had a blast. But you see, he's married, yes married, and has a family. He had to get married, and he says he don't live with his wife. I said I wasn't going to get mixed up in any mess like that but he says I'm just playing hard to get and he'll wait. I read his mind through his eyes, and I don't think he'll have to wait long. He's 21 but looks and acts about 18.

All I want is advice to stay away from "lover boy," but how do you keep away from a guy with looks like that? Please don't give me no religious talk. I've been through that, and it wasn't enough. If my folks knew they'd send me to boarding school like they threatened before when I came home looped.

— Jayne II.

Dear Jayne: The best way to stay away from "lover boy" and all your OLD drinking buddies is — enroll in that boarding school before it's too late!

"I keep telling him: 'Just sell the sets! Don't argue with the customers about crummy shows!'"

"After all the money we spent on lessons, who would think we would still be wondering if she would ever learn to dance?"

THE BORN LOSER

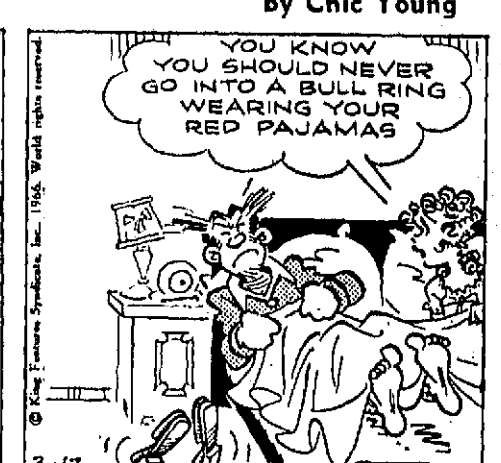

By ART SANSON

SPACE SPECIALIST—His own country is not in the space race, but Britain's Sir Bernard Lovell frequently is first to have details on American and Soviet exploits, such as pictures from the Luna-9 moon landing. He's director of England's giant Jodrell Bank radio telescope, world's most powerful, which co-operates in U.S. deep-space probes and sometimes in Soviet shots.

WIN AT BRIDGE

After Blackwood Do Not Waver

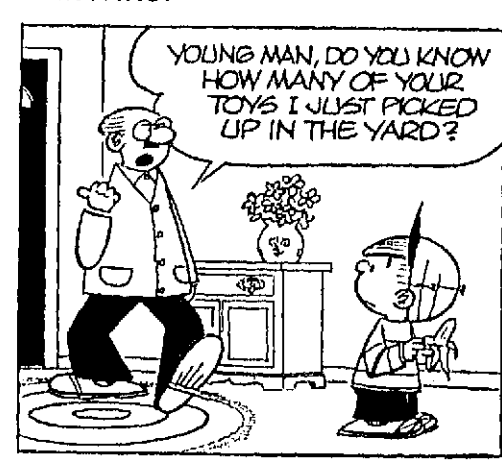

Today's North hand was shown as the basis for several questions in our regular column. When North bid six hearts our comment was "Once you bid Blackwood and find out that your side has enough aces to go to six, you must go to six."

A letter from New York underlines the words you must go to six and asks, "Can there be no doubts, no agonizing reappraisal—I'm probably being too aggressive—my partner may only have six or seven points—is there any reason to think he has more? Can there be no turning back?"

The answer to our reader is that the turning back should take place before you use Blackwood. You do not—repeat, do not—use Blackwood unless you are prepared to go to six with a combined total of three aces.

North's Blackwood bid represented some slight optimism on his part but one should not change from optimist to pessimist between bids and it behooved him to carry on to six.

South had several ways to play the slam. All worked, but the one he adopted avoided the need to try any finesses at all. At trick two he led a diamond to dummy's king. East took his ace and returned a spade for dummy to ruff. South played out the ace and king of trumps and queen and four of diamonds. He ruffed the four of diamonds and when West's jack dropped he was able to discard one club on the ten of diamonds.

♥-CARD Sense-♦

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
1 ♠	Pass	1 N.T.
Pass	3 ♦	Pass

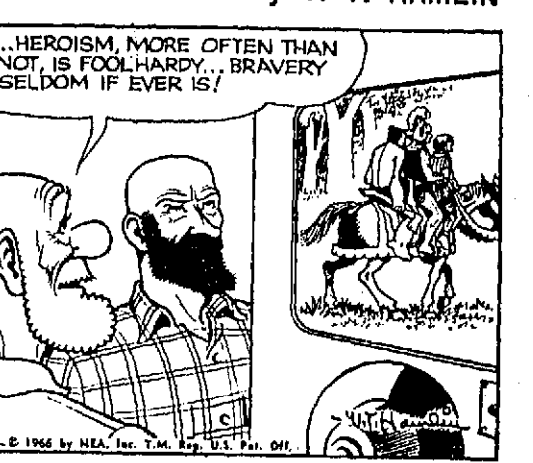

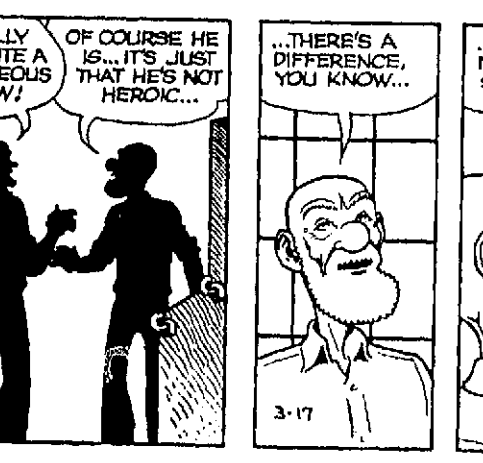

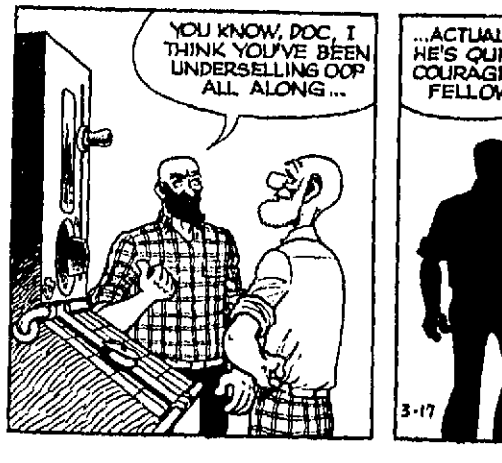

You, South, hold:

♠ 2 ♥ K J 9 4 ♦ 10 6 5 4 ♣ K J 9

What do you do?

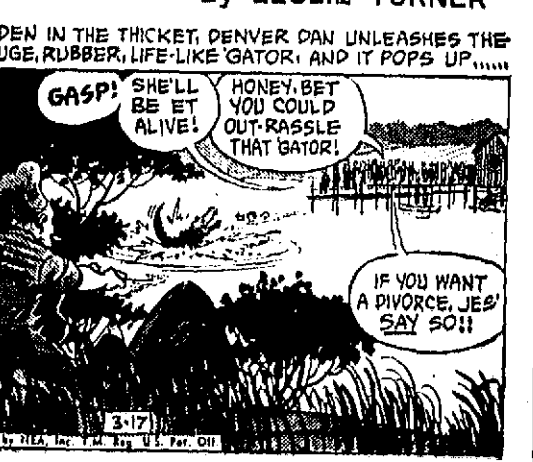

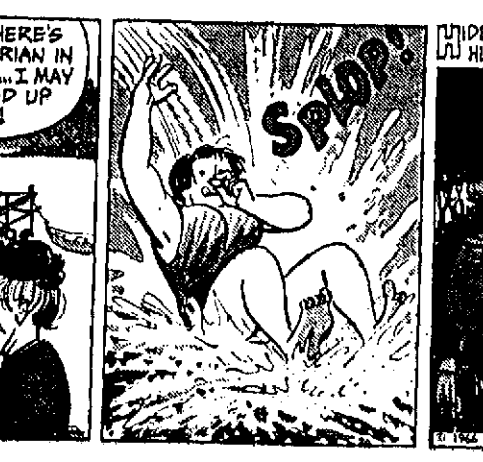

A—Bid five hearts. You have both a maximum no-trump and maximum heart support. There is some slight risk here but there is a good chance that your partner will be able to bid six and make it.

$110,000 Tourney Opens at Orlando

Champs See How Other Teams Live

By DUKE FERGUSON
ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—When a golfer tees off in a major professional tournament, such as the $110,000 Citrus Open starting today, he's the loneliest guy in the world.

It's not that there's no one around. He's playing with two or three other competitors, and if he is a well-known money-maker, there's generally a gallery of several hundred spectators dogging his footsteps.

But, unlike many other sports, the golfer has to meet each problem alone, there's no teamwork. It's all solo.

Some, like the popular Arnold Palmer, have that certain unknown ingredient that makes champions.

His biggest year was 1963 when he won $130,835. However, he dropped to $116,088, though still No. 1 money maker in 1964, and plummeted to $82,699 and 10th spot in 1965.

Observers blamed Palmer's many business enterprises for taking his mind off his game. But the 36-year-old native of Latrobe, Pa., apparently has shed some business worries and has been coming back strong this year, winning one tournament, the Los Angeles Open, and collecting $36,490 in six events.

Palmer, always quick with a smile, "toured" the 6,873-yard, par 35-36-71 Rio Pinar Country Club course Tuesday in his private, twin-engine jet, letting the crowd below know he had arrived.

A member of the Big Three, Gary Player, a small man at 5-foot-7 and 150 pounds, but a big competitor, continues to wear his traditional black clothing—which he claims gives him strength.

The South African star will be playing for the first time on the 1966 tour, having spent the past three months playing exhibition matches with Jack Nicklaus, another of the Big Three out of the country.

Nicklaus, who has played in only two tournaments this season, stunned the competition Wednesday by winning the $5,000 pro-am event with a record-breaking 64-seven under par.

This inaugural of the Citrus Open could be won by any of the 143 pros and one amateur—Tracy Allen of Winter Park, Fla. The field includes 47 of the 50 top money winners.

The horned toad is really a lizard. The name toad comes from the squat, toadlike shape of its body.

Clay Protests 1-A Rating to Draft Board

By BILL MANN
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Casius Clay, known for fast fists and faster lip, kept a rein on the lip except to talk about the fists as he prepared to appear today before his draft board to protest his 1-A classification.

The generally acknowledged heavyweight champion refused to divulge Wednesday night the basis for his protest when he goes before Local Board 47, which reclassified him from 1-Y to 1-A on Feb. 17.

"I'm not talking to the press," he said. "I expect to talk to my attorney tomorrow, and we'll decide then what to appeal on."

Clay said after his reclassification that serving in the armed forces would be against his religious belief—in other words, that he is a conscientious objector. He is a member of the Black Muslims, an Islam sect.

But J. Allen Sherman, chairman of the local board, speculated that Clay would claim dependency, with the champion citing "either his mother or all-mother payments."

Sherman said he doesn't think the all-mother payments, the $177,500 Clay has been ordered to pay to his divorced wife Sonji Roi, would be valid ground for a continued deferment.

Clay said he would be accompanied at the hearing only by his personal attorney, Edward W. Jacko of New York.

And that's all Clay would say about the personal appearance. He was willing to talk about his March 29 title fight with George Chuvalo, in Chuvalo's native Canada. And the talk sounded particularly un-Claylike.

"He could take me in 15 rounds," Clay said. "He knocked out Doug Jones, and if people were smart they would compare that fight with my fight against Jones."

Clay had trouble with Jones, but he finally won a split decision.

The March 29 bout originally was scheduled with Ernie Terrell, but Terrell backed out after receiving what he called an unsatisfactory contract for Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens.

Cobalt Treatments Cannot Cause Cancer of Breasts
BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Doctors have diagnosed my wife as having fibrocystic disease of the breast, recurrent carcinoma of the breast and carcinoma of the breast with metastases. Are any of these related to cancer? Could cobalt treatments result in cancer?

A—Fibrocystic mastitis is an inflammation of the breast which is not malignant but should be watched because it may become cancerous. Carcinoma is one type of breast cancer and "recurrent" implies a return of the cancer in an area where it has been removed. Metastasis is the process of spreading to another part of the body, often far removed from the original site. This is the characteristic that makes cancer so vicious and so hard to cure. A breast cancer may metastasize to the spine and other bones. Since cobalt treatments are given in an effort to kill cancer, they cannot be said to have caused it.

Q—What treatment do you recommend for a man whose breasts are much larger than average for a male?

A—All persons have both male and female hormones in their blood, but in men the male hormones predominate and in women the female. Enlargement of the breasts in men may occur at puberty, but this is associated with an increase in the pituitary hormone rather than the female hormone. In most young men

Bullets Fight Way Into the Pro Playoffs

By GORDON BEARD
Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE (AP) — It was only fitting that the Baltimore Bullets clinched a National Basketball Association playoff berth with three cripples playing and two others watching from the bench.

That's the way it has been all season for the Bullets, who have a chance to finish second in the Western Division despite a rash of injuries.

"This has to be the most rewarding of my 20 years in the game," said Baltimore Coach Paul Seymour after the Bullets came from behind in the final six minutes Wednesday night to defeat the New York Knickerbockers 118-113.

It was the only game scheduled in the NBA.

"We did some checking," Seymour said, "and found out that we had our whole team together for only two games all season."

Don Ohl, who had a fractured cheekbone earlier in the season and has missed seven games, led the Bullets with 39 points Wednesday while being honored as the team's most valuable player for the year.

Ohl sank 15 of 29 shots from the floor and was credited with six assists. He made 12 of his points in the fourth quarter after the Knicks had overcome a 13-point deficit and moved ahead 95-92.

Watching from the bench were Gus Johnson, who has torn ligaments in his right ankle and is probably out for the season, and Kevin Loughery, sidelined with a sprained ankle. Playing despite injuries were Bob Ferry, Johnny Egan and Jerry Sloan.

"That's the way it's been all year," Seymour said. "Kevin had a tonsillectomy just before the opening game. Gus broke his wrist in the second game. Then John Kerr had a bad back, Ferry got the flu, and so did some of the others."

Surprise Team Army Takes on Big Cougars

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Army, the surprise team of the tourney, gets its big chance against the favored Brigham Young Cougars in the semifinals tonight of the National Invitation college basketball tournament.

Villanova, on an eight-game winning streak and triumphant in 12 of its last 13 games, is expected to down NYU in the other semi before a capacity turnout of 18,400 at Madison Square Garden.

The winners meet at 2 p.m., EST Saturday in the championship game which will be nationally televised over CBS. The losers play for third place at noon Saturday.

Virtually everyone wrote off Army's chances when the West Point Cadets lost sturdy 6-foot-6 Mike Silliman, their star, because of a knee injury near the end of the regular season.

But another senior, 6-foot-3 Bill Helkie of South Bend, Ind., stepped into the breach and the Black Knights of the Hudson upset Manhattan and San Francisco to reach the round of four. Helkie tossed in 27 points against Manhattan and 34 against the Dons.

The fired-up Cadets are expected to have tougher going against the BYU Cougars led by Dick Nemelka and Jeff Congdon. The top-seeded Cougars showed a lot of poise in defeating Temple in the quarter-finals Monday.

Army has an added incentive to upset the Cougars. The Cadets lost in the NIT semifinals the last two years. On each occasion the teams that beat them, Bradley and St. John's, went on to win the championship. Thus the Cadets figure that if they overcome BYU they'll win the championship against either Villanova or NYU.

Hopeful for Agreement on Braves

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Attorneys in Wisconsin antitrust suit against baseball hoped to reach agreement today on the admission of secret financial information on National League ball clubs into the record.

Until they agree, the state cannot rest its case. But it appeared likely that this would at last be accomplished today. That would bring baseball to bat on Friday for the presentation of evidence in defense of the National League and its members.

The financial issue is an integral part of Wisconsin's case against the senior circuit stemming from the Braves' move to Atlanta and the alleged consequent boycott of Milwaukee as a major league city.

Counsel held a two-hour conference Wednesday in Judge Elmer Roller's chambers on the confidential financial reports. Afterward, Judge Roller announced that more information was required from accountants who have been examining the material which is under the protective custody of the court. He said the needed reports would be obtained overnight.

Some 234 exhibits offered by the state were accepted by Judge Roller after nearly two full days of frequently heated arguments.

Earlier in the day, the court accepted a book titled "Facts," written by former baseball commissioner Ford Frick. The defense had called it "hearsay" and argued that the commissioner did not claim to have authentic information on baseball's economic impact.

The argument over exhibits was sparked by a heated exchange on the subject of baseball expansion.

Big Test on Friday for Kentucky

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Want a winner? Listen to Henry Iba and you'll take Kentucky.

"It's not easy," the veteran coach of Oklahoma State said when asked to pick a winner in the NCAA basketball championships.

"When you get to this stage," he said, "when you've got teams that have been through this testing, when you've only got four left out of all the hundreds that started the season, you usually don't have that much left to pick from."

"I don't know a lot of these teams. I haven't seen them. I don't know their players."

"But I know Adolph Rupp. And from what I hear, he's got one of the greatest shooting teams he's ever had. And, young man, if that's true, he's got something."

The test comes Friday night when Kentucky, the No. 1 team in the nation and 28-1 for the season, puts its hopes for a record fifth NCAA national championship on the line against Duke, the No. 2 team at 25-3. They clash in the semifinals.

Texas Western, No. 3 in the nation and 26-1, plays Utah, unranked and injury-hobbled, in the second game of the semifinal doubleheader. Utah is 23-6 for the season.

Both the semifinals and finals Saturday night will be televised by Sports Network, Inc.

All but Texas Western are talking about injuries and illness, but Iba tends to discount that a bit.

Kentucky starting forward Larry Conley was bedded with the flu Tuesday night and 10 other team members were complaining of colds and chest pains. All are expected to be ready.

Duke's top scorer, Bob Verga, has a touch of tonsillitis. He's also counted on in a starting role, but may be at less than top strength.

Utah's troubles may be the most serious. George Fisher, the team's best rebounder, broke a leg in a late season game and is definitely out.

Sophomore Lyndon MacKay, a 6-foot-6 starting forward and possibly the team's most consistent player, twisted his left knee in a regional game and is a doubtful starter.

Utah got in late Wednesday night. The rest are scheduled to arrive today. All have short, closed practices scheduled on the University of Maryland campus.

Bobby Hull Is Clutch Player

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
In the National Hockey League's pressure-cooker race you couldn't want a better clutch player on your side than record-breaking Bobby Hull—unless of course it's Jean Beliveau.

Chicago's Hull scored his 53rd goal of the season and moved within three points of the single-season point record as he helped keep the Black Hawks breathing down league-leading Montreal's neck Wednesday night with a 4-1 triumph over Detroit.

But the Canadiens, hurting physically, refused to fold, bombing two Toronto goalies for seven goals—two by Beliveau—and a 7-2 victory over the Maple Leafs.

Two goals by Johnny Bucky helped Boston whip New York 3-1 in Wednesday's other game.

Hull scored his 53rd and third in the last three games after Phil Esposito had hit twice for the Black Hawks. Later Hull assisted on defenseman Doug Jarrett's goal, running his point total to 93 with seven games remaining. The NHL record of 96 is held by Dickie Moore, who did it for Montreal in 1958-59.

Montreal has a one-point lead with eight to play. The Black Hawks have seven games remaining.

Warren Top Ruler of U.S. Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — Earl Warren, 75 next Saturday, after 13 years on the Supreme Court is the strongest and most influential chief justice in American history, with the possible exception of John Marshall.

Marshall died in 1835 after 34 years as chief justice. He was not an intellectual, neither is Warren. Like Marshall, Warren is a tough-minded, practical man who is making the court a directly active force in American life and government.

Their effect will last forever in this country.

Before Marshall, who took his seat in 1801, the court had been so weak and little regarded that the very first chief justice, John Jay, a rich aristocrat, resigned to be governor of New York.

After a few years on the court, Warren, who had been governor of California three times, said, "I could not imagine going back to the other life."

Marshall made the court as strong as the presidency or Congress. He believed in the sovereignty of the federal government over the states and in the sanctity of private property. His court protected both.

The result was a strong central government which otherwise might have dwindled into a whisper. It laid the foundation for the future America.

Many times in the years that followed, the court was wishy-washy, timidly bowing to the will of Congress or the White House, particularly after the uproar over the reactionary court which invalidated the early part of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal.

For example: In 1896 the court ruled it was constitutional to segregate Negroes. In the next 58 years the court chipped away at this but never quite got on the courage of saying the 1896 decision itself was unconstitutional.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower appointed Warren chief justice in 1953 and a few months later, on May 17, 1954, the nine justices unanimously knocked out segregation and the 1896 ruling by outlawing segregation in public schools.

Just getting unanimity among the other eight justices on this was a great achievement for Warren.

Congress had dillyed and dallied with civil rights legislation more than a generation but never felt strongly enough about it to pass a law giving Negroes the rights due them under the law since 1875.

In 1954 the court did what Congress had failed to face up to. It was denounced for this and later decisions. This didn't disturb Warren, Marshall and his court had to endure the same thing.

But once the court had acted in 1954, Congress passed one civil rights act after another and the court upheld them.

Again Congress sat idly by while the rural populations of many states, outnumbered by the people in the cities, controlled state legislatures through devices worked out many decades ago.

The Warren court stepped in and forced a change, ruling that states must be restricted for both houses of the legislature to assure all citizens equal representation. The court's rule was one man, one vote.

The Warren court has enforced the separation of church and state, and extended the guarantees of freedom from unreasonable searches and seizures, the privilege against self-incrimination, the right to coun-

Eroding A Man's Incentive To Work

The charge is made that the proposed new federal unemployment compensation bill would erode a man's incentive to work, and it seems likely. HR 8262 would replace the present unemployment compensation programs now operated by the 50 states with a single federal program which would:

- Double the federal unemployment tax cost and more than double state unemployment taxes for many employers by 1971.
- Extend coverage to 4.6 million more workers, primarily farm and agricultural processing workers, employees of hospitals and other nonprofit and charitable organizations, certain commission agents such as bakery truck drivers and employees of small firms now exempt in 31 states because they have fewer than four employees.

- Establish federal standards for state unemployment compensation programs on benefit amounts, benefit duration and eligibility.

It appears that HR 8262 would move unemployment compensation well down the road toward the idea of a regular wage income whether a man is working or not. The bill would compel every state to pay benefits for at least 26 weeks for no more than 20 weeks of employment. And, in addition, the federal government would pay benefits for another 26 weeks — or a total of 52 weeks of benefits.

The original purpose of unemployment compensation was to help sustain the employee who lost his job through no fault of his own until he could get another job. But under 8262 an individual would draw benefits even if he quit voluntarily without good cause; was fired for willful misconduct; or if he refuses to take a suitable job while drawing UC benefits. Such liberal benefits will cost employers many additional millions and will encourage the indolent while subtracting from UC resources the benefits which should go to the conscientious majority of workers when they need it. — Orlando (Fla.) ### A Promising Youngster

Charges of assault and battery against a teacher who had paddled a seventh-grade pupil were dismissed in Evansville, Ind., the other day under unusual circumstances. The parents of the boy concerned had initiated the action and the judge ruled for acquittal when the youngster testified there had been nothing to harsh about the incident and then added: "I deserved it." A youth with that amount of fairness and that much perception of the need for discipline is promising indeed. — Memphis (Tenn.) Commercial Appeal

Garbage Bags Transparent

FERDALE, Mich. (AP) — What residents in this Detroit suburb didn't know about their neighbors may soon be revealed. Ferndale is experimenting with transparent garbage bags. City Manager J. William Little says the heavy-duty bags would line trash cans. On garbage pickup days, homeowners would haul the bags to the curb, leaving trash cans undented at the rear of the house.

Little says the bags save collection time. "Besides," he added, "Ferndale has nothing to hide."

Boeing Modifies Some 52 Bombers

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — The Boeing Co. is modifying some B52 Stratofortress bombers to increase their conventional bomb loads by as much as 57 per cent.

B52s so equipped would be able to carry up to 60,000 pounds, an increase of 21,750 pounds. The company did not say how many B52s were being modified.

Cement Production

MASON CITY, Iowa (AP) — A major breakthrough in cement production "has been claimed" by the Northwestern States Portland Cement Co. The company says it has developed a computer control system for a giant rotary kiln that adjusts fuel, heat and material balances to obtain optimum conditions.

Meet Called to Discuss Crisis by DeGaulle

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson meets with top State and Defense Department advisers tonight on the crisis in the Western Alliance over President Charles de Gaulle's moves to pull France out of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The scheduled meeting will be the second in two days. There was speculation that the President was considering sending a new message to De Gaulle setting forth more explicitly than in a previous letter U.S. reaction to the French break-away program.

Summoned to the early evening session were Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Undersecretary George W. Ball, Deputy Defense Secretary Cyrus R. Vance, former Secretary of State Dean Acheson, ambassador to France, Charles E. Bohlen and Assistant Secretary of State John M. Leedy.

Rusk, Acheson and Bohlen were among Wednesday's participants. One official said that one reason for the meetings at this time is that Johnson is getting a report from Bohlen on French policy and attitudes. The envoy returned from Paris last weekend.

Officials said the major lines of U.S. policy in the crisis are clear: The United States is confident that NATO will remain as a 14-nation defense system under the Atlantic Alliance regardless of De Gaulle's withdrawal.

Johnson is represented as having made clear that while the U.S. position on NATO itself must be absolutely firm, he does not want any avoidable difficulties with De Gaulle.

Two specific issues which are beginning to take form in policy discussions here concern the legality of De Gaulle's projected action and his responsibility for paying the cost for upsetting present NATO arrangements.

Administration officials are understood to be developing a legal case that under the Atlantic treaty itself and other related agreements, De Gaulle actually has no right to pull French forces out of NATO and upset supply arrangements based in France for the NATO defense front in Germany.

Informed officials say that no one in authority here questions the power of the French government to do what De Gaulle has outlined in various notes to the other Allies.

The developing U.S. argument is said to be rather that in breaking its treaty commitments, France assumes a legal responsibility to compensate the other Allies for the inconvenience and disarray created in an effective, operating defense system.

Jetliner in Safe Landing at Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A jetliner with 60 passengers landed safely here Wednesday after a collision with a duck tore a 12-inch hole in a wing.

The Delta Air Lines DC9, on a flight from St. Louis to Memphis, landed without incident despite the flurry of fire engines and rescue vehicles waiting at the runway.

Delta officials said the twin-engine jet was at 3,000 feet when it flew into a small flock of ducks.

Capt. David Thayer of Chicago, the pilot, said the jet was "coming down when I heard a thud and felt her shudder a little bit."

"I knew we had hit a bird," Thayer said, "but I didn't know where. But I knew everything was all right when we came on down. I'd declared no emergency and I was a little surprised to see the fire trucks."

The bird smashed into the front of the plane's right wing, midway between the tip and the fuselage. "We sent the fire trucks out as a precautionary matter, which is usual."

A Federal Aviation Agency supervisor in Kansas City said the jet struck the bird during takeoff from St. Louis, but that it was not reported until the plane had reached cruising altitude.

Life Sentence Is Reduced

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus ordered Wednesday that the life in prison sentence of James Terry, sentenced in Mississippi County on a 1943 rape conviction, be reduced to 65 years.

This makes Terry eligible for parole consideration. Faubus also reduced to 17 years the 21-year sentence of William James Morgan, sentenced in Phillips County in 1960 on a second-degree murder conviction.

The state Pardon and Parole Board recommended the commutations.

DAR Wins 2 Awards at State Meet

At a luncheon meeting at the Heritage House, March 16, announcement was made by Regent, Mrs. Richards Howard, that the John Cain Chapter, D A R, received at the 58th Conference of the Arkansas State Society, Little Rock, special recognition for having the best overall reports on American Heritage and on Constitution Week Activities.

These awards were presented to Mrs. Howard at the banquet honoring Chapter Regents Friday evening, March 11 at the Lafayette Hotel.

The American Heritage award included recognition of John Cain Chapter's having been a National prize-winner of its program of color slides, with commentary, on Pioneer Washington, Arkansas, which was presented to the DAR National Program Committee last April, and is now being used by DAR Chapters throughout the United States.

Accounts of the State Conference were given by Mrs. Paul Klipsch, State Librarian, and Treasurer of John Cain Chapter, and by Mrs. Howard. A proposal, patterned on the Resolution, has been placed before the Legislative Council by the Rep. Falbot Feldt, Jr., and will be considered at its committee meeting on March 17. On this date a number of Arkansians, prominent in Bububon, Wildlife and Garden Clubs will be present to speak in favor of this proposal. Dr. Herbert Rogers, president of the local Bububon Club, and Mrs. Rogers will attend.

At the conclusion of the luncheon the group were introduced to guest, Paul W. Klipsch, who showed color slides of American Indians taken on recent trips to North New Mexico of the San Juan Pueblo Indians, the Indian Country near Valentine, Texas and of the Grand Mesa Mountain Ranges in Colorado.

At the conclusion of the program a business meeting was held. Mrs. Gordon Tyler, Secretary, read the minutes of the February meeting. Mrs. C. B. Voss of Fulton and Mrs. Floyd Monzingo of Magnolia were welcomed as new members of the Chapter. Mrs. Charles Taylor gave National Defense, her topic being exchange visits for scientists — Polish and Americans. Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Gordon Tyler, Mrs. J. G. Martindale and Mrs. Herbert Stephens.

3 Arrested for Copper Theft

HAMBURG, Ark. (AP) — Three men have been arrested in the theft of copper tubing valued between $40,000 and $50,000, Sheriff B. A. Courson said Wednesday. He said more arrests may be made.

The three are Johnny B. Williams, Eddie Evans Jr. and Milton Lindsey, all of West Crossett. Hearings have been set for next week. Courson said the tubing was taken over a three-year period from the chemical plant of the Georgia-Pacific Corp.

Groundbreaking for Drink Plant

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Ground was broken for a $2 million Coca-Cola bottling plant here Wednesday in the city's Industrial District.

Three buildings are planned with a total of 120,000 square feet, executive vice president A. Howard Stebbings III said. One building will house offices and the bottling plant and the other two will be used for vehicle repair and service, he said.

Governor Is Considered to Be Running

By JOHN R. STARR

Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus is telling potential supporters that the Ozarka program is one of the main reasons he has "paused to reconsider" his decision not to seek re-election.

The governor is considered in most quarters to be running, although he has made no formal announcement.

And he is not telling persons who write asking about his plans whether he will run.

But he warns, "A change could be for the worse, instead of better."

Faubus recently wrote a three-page answer to a potential supporter who asked him: "What should I tell friends who say that seven terms is too many?"

"What could you do in a seventh term that you have not already had an opportunity to do?"

"Why would it not be good for Arkansas to switch to Winthrop Rockefeller for two or four years?"

On the seven-term question, Faubus wrote:

"If I should reappear, the term is not important. The people are simply hiring a public servant for another two-year period. What is important is whether I have administered the affairs of the people properly and in their best interest. I hope the people feel I have, whether or not I am a candidate for re-election."

"Let me put the matter this way. If you had a lawyer who had taken proper care of your affairs, a doctor in whom you had confidence, a cook who had prepared good food — you would not change just for the sake of a change. You would not change unless you felt there would be an improvement."

Big Bombers Strike Enemy in Jungles

By THOMAS A. REEDY

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The U.S. Air Force sent a flight of B52 bombers today against a North Vietnamese jungle only 35 miles north of Saigon.

Intelligence officers said it was the closest North Vietnamese regulars had been reported to the capital.

The B52s dropped their huge bomb loads only four miles ahead of thousands of U.S. and Australian foot soldiers cutting through the brush with machetes and jungle knives. As Operation Silver City on its 10th day slashed deeper into the old Communist stronghold, the Allied forces found 113 more bodies, bringing the enemy toll in a four-hour battle Wednesday to 275 killed.

An American source said two enemy wounded identified the troops as North Vietnamese regulars. One of them — a Viet Cong — said that his battalion of 400 men was 90 per cent North Vietnamese army regulars.

In the skies over North Viet Nam, U.S. Air Force and Navy pilots evaded some surface-to-air missiles and also spotted enemy planes they thought were Soviet-designed MIG21s, advanced jets equal to some of the best American planes. The MIGs fled without attacking.

Action picked up elsewhere. The U.S. command reported at its daily briefing: The U.S. 25th Infantry Division cracked into the Bao Trai area, 20 to 25 miles west of Saigon, in a sweep dubbed Operation Honolulu, after the jungle division's home base. Its aim is to clear the Viet Cong from the many waterways and underground networks in the sector.

American Is Released by E. Germany

By HUBERT J. ERB

BERLIN (AP) — John Van Altena Jr., 21, an American released by the East Germans after serving 17 months of an 8-year sentence, was reported "in pretty good shape" today.

Van Altena, of Milton Junction, Wis., was convicted in January 1965 of trying to smuggle an East German woman and her child through the Berlin wall in the trunk of his car. He was arrested in October 1964 and released at the wall Wednesday.

"The East Germans claimed they caught him in the act," his mother, Mrs. John Van Altena, said in Milton Junction. "In his letters to us he never denied he did it but he said not to believe everything we heard."

She said her son went to Germany about six months before his arrest to work for West Germany's Luftwaffe Airline.

An informed source in Berlin said Van Altena wanted to get back home. He was taken to an undisclosed location in West Berlin to rest, the source said.

Van Altena's parents said they were told their son had been taken to a U.S. Army hospital in West Germany for a physical examination.

Irish Don't Expect Any Trouble

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Irish police don't expect any trouble on St. Patrick's Day today but they're on the alert.

The day of Ireland's patron saint has always been a quiet affair here compared with celebrations elsewhere, especially in New York and Boston.

But nationalist extremists last week blew the top off the 134-foot Nelson monument in downtown Dublin, and the 50th anniversary of the 1916 Easter uprising against England is only three weeks away.

This, and a rash of recent bombings, have police keeping an eye out for hotheads. However, authorities said they didn't expect any political trouble today.

The festive day dawned with church bells calling all Irishmen to religious services. There was a special service at the Church of Ireland's Anglican Cathedral at Downpatrick, County Down, where some believe St. Patrick is buried.

The annual parade in Dublin is a commercial affair with advertising floats and pretty girls. For the first time its route down O'Connell Street was not dominated by Nelson's column. Government demolition squads have blasted the 50-foot stump that remained after the extremist blast.

The statue to Britain's most famous admiral was erected by British public subscription in 1809 to commemorate Lord Nelson's victory over the French at Trafalgar. To Irish nationalists it was a symbol of British oppression.

Extremists also recently hurled fire bombs at Dublin's British Legion (veterans) Club and set fire to the home of the British military attaché.

The outlawed Irish Republican Army has denied responsibility for the terrorism, which is attributed to a far-out extremist group. Its name is not generally known.

Standby Tax Hike Proposed to Congress

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate-House Economic Committee has proposed that Congress enact a standby tax increase but finds the experts divided on whether the boost should actually be put into effect.

Four noted economists split, two against two, in testimony Wednesday on whether taxes should be raised at once to fight inflation. Three of them emphasized that despite some overheating the price pot is not yet boiling.

The witnesses disagreed also on some details of what taxes should be changed, how, and by how much. But all said an income tax rise should be included, and all held that the spade-work should be done now for an anti-inflation tax law which might never be used.

The hearings continue today. While a subcommittee headed by Rep. Martha Griffiths, D-Mich., received testimony Wednesday, the full committee issued its formal report evaluating the President's annual economic message to Congress.

The Democratic majority — whose findings were disputed almost all the way down the line by the Republican committee members — recommended that:

1. A standby tax program "should be designed and enacted immediately with a provision that it should come into effect whenever Congress passes, and the President signs, a joint resolution bringing it into operation."

By the joint resolution technique it would be possible to write new tax rates into law in a single day, lawmakers said, instead of the two or more months normally needed.

2. The 7 per cent tax credit for business investment in new equipment and machinery should be suspended immediately. Enacted in 1962 to encourage plant modernization, the device has encouraged record-shattering industrial outlays.

3. The extraordinary exuberance indicated by investment programs "is one of the major inflationary threats of this year," the committee said.

4. The costs of the military buildup for Viet Nam should thus be covered by raising tax revenues instead of curtailing federal outlays for civilian programs.

Safe Emergency Landing Made by U.S. Astronauts

Testimonial Dinner for McClellan

A testimonial dinner for Senator John L. McClellan has been set for Friday March 25th in Robison Auditorium in Little Rock by a group of Arkansas citizens known as The Friends of McClellan. Mr. W. H. Kennedy Jr., a Pine Bluff banker, is chairman of the group. Mr. Kennedy said the purpose of the dinner is to "Pay tribute to a great American, one who has served his in the United States Senate for 24 years and before that in the House of Representatives four years."

The dinner will be open to the public with tickets at $2.50 each and it is expected that representatives from all counties throughout Arkansas will be in attendance. Tickets will be on sale locally at the First National Bank, The Citizens National Bank and the Chamber of Commerce office. A bus load of friends from Hope is planned and all persons desiring to attend and go with the group on the bus are asked to purchase their tickets by Wednesday of next week. Price of the bus ticket and the dinner will be $8.00. Only 45 tickets will be available at this price and a number of them will be reserved for friend in the Blevins, Palmos, Fulton, Ozan, Washington, McCaskill, and Spring Hill communities.

But it was very serious and it took utmost effort of the crew to regain control and conduct a safe re-entry and landing.

President Johnson reported he was "greatly relieved" at the safe return of the astronauts and praised their "skill and strength."

Armstrong, a civilian, and Scott, an Air Force major, today were aboard the USS Leonard F. Mason, the destroyer that retrieved them from the Western Pacific early today.

The Mason was due in Yaha, Okinawa, about 11 p.m. EST today. The astronauts will be flown to Cape Kennedy Friday to tell their story to anxious officials.

What they have to say will have an important bearing on the future of the U.S. space program. The whole concept of hooking up with another satellite might have to be changed.

The trouble cropped up only half an hour after they achieved the first linkup with another satellite. At 6:30 p.m. EST, command pilot Armstrong climaxed a brilliant space chase by gently nudging the Gemini 8 nose into a funnel-like docking collar of a 26-foot-long Agena space vehicle.

"It is really a smoothie," Armstrong said when the docking was completed. But his elation was short lived.

Mission directors at the control center in Houston, Tex., suddenly were jolted out of their seats when tracking data indicated the joined spaceships were rolling.

"It took off in roll and yaw," Armstrong reported.

This quote was passed on to newsmen by Flight Director John Hodge. But he and other officials said they could not let reporters hear the full tape because the tone of the voices and what the astronauts said might be misinterpreted.

Gemini Venture at a Glance

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Astronauts Neil Armstrong and David Scott made a safe emergency landing in the Pacific Ocean after their Gemini 8 spacecraft encountered trouble before the end of the seventh orbit.

Command pilot Armstrong was forced to turn to a re-entry control system when his spacecraft and the Agena engine with which it had docked started spinning out of control.

Gemini 8 parachuted into the Western Pacific some 500 miles east of Okinawa and the astronauts reported they were in good condition after cutting short their three-day flight about 10 hours from liftoff.

Airline Brings Beauty Down to Earth

by Alicea Hart
Beauty Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Competent service and good looks are synonymous with the term "airline stewardess." This has been true since the first hostess stepped aboard a United Air Lines plane May 15, 1930.

Millions of flight miles later, the major airlines in their training schools still stress a certain "beauty" based upon wholesomeness, cleanliness, correct use of make-up and proper hairdo.

Now, one airline is bringing beauty down to earth, so to speak. Special courses for more than 500 waitresses, hostesses and cashiers who work in 14 major U.S. airport restaurants (American Airlines' Sky Chef) are nearing completion. The beauty workshops or grooming clinics represent a new phase of employee improvement, according to Joan Cochran, a smiling blonde who finds her job rewarding in teaching women to make the best of what they have.

Miss Cochran, when not on the telephone or on her way to an airport to fly to another city, is consumer programs manager for Clairol and conducts the clinics.

The hair products/cosmetic firm, like so many of its counterparts, has put its own training program for cosmeticians to work for other businesses. In 1964-65, Miss Cochran and her staff got urgent calls for help in "naturalizing" the young women representing 10 pavilions at the New York World's Fair. This success, Miss Cochran says, led to other requests from corporations for similar grooming classes. The goal is to guide women employees to look better. How? By teaching them how to use cosmetics properly and how to select hairstyles most becoming to them.

"We aim for the balanced look," Miss Cochran explains. "Our approach to each woman is like bringing a picture into balance."

On a special card the women taking part in the same course indicate their complexion, skin tone and hair color. Then Miss Cochran and her aides provide a kit with make-up co-ordinated to give each woman her own total look.

"The surprising thing we learned was that most women do not know whether they are brunettes or brownettes," she says. This makes it difficult for them to select the correct shade make-up in a store.

Women also tend to have "too heavy a hand with eye make-up and pluck their eyebrows or pencil them into the wrong shape," Miss Cochran says the women were surprisingly consistent. "If they were bad in one phase of make-up, they were bad in them all."

Many of the waitresses used hair coloring or their hair was bleached or dyed.

Miss Cochran said this brought up another important point in advising any woman. "Always select a haircoloring that gives the most natural look for you. When you change your hair color, don't forget to change the color of your eyebrows." Black eyebrows with blonded hair, for example, should be softened.

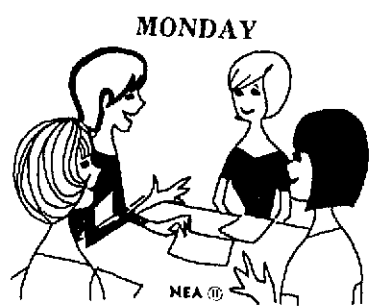

Regionally the women appeared to differ little in their approach to lipstick and make-up colors. "Unfortunately," Miss Cochran sighed, "most women past 40 tend to use the first make-up shades they selected in their teens or early 20s."

She urges more women to experiment with new lipstick shades.

To women from Denver to El Paso to Cleveland to New York she made the point that men truly dislike the heavily made-up look. "A woman who works or applies for a job should realize that most of her evaluation in a job will be by men. With cosmetics today a woman can do a lot to improve her looks beyond her natural self."

Miss Cochran says she was happy to see that the women in the course showed an improved outlook. "Once you take pride in yourself, you begin to walk tall," she discovered.

An opinion expressed quietly and logically carries more weight than a ranting speech.

Take Heart If You Owe Uncle Sam

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
WASHINGTON (AP) — If you owe Uncle Sam some money on last year's income tax, take heart. You've got some high-level company.

Sheldon S. Cohen, who as commissioner of internal revenue is the federal government's top tax collector, disclosed today that he owes an additional $71.05 but plans to pay up this week.

April 15 is the deadline for filing income tax returns for 1965. If you owe money, it must be paid by that time. For Cohen, the $71.05 is the amount that his withholding fell short his tax for the year.

Cohen said in an interview that he prepared his own tax return — "I do my own, I always have" — claimed six exemptions — he and his wife have four children — and listed his occupation as government employee.

That, he said, is so one of his employees in the Internal Revenue Service can't tell at a glance that it's the commissioner's return and won't shy away from withdrawing it for a possible audit if one appears necessary.

Cohen's return has been audited the last two years and found in good order, he said.

While many Americans find income tax time a yearly struggle, gle, Cohen said it need not be. The greatest problem, he noted, is in accumulating the needed information.

"Most people are disorganized," he said. "They don't think of the information they'll need until they're ready to fill out the tax form. But once the information is available the rest is routine."

What does Cohen do? He said, for example, that he keeps a cigar box in the cupboard into which he and his wife drop drug store and similar receipts. He also pays all doctor bills by check and consequently has a handy record in canceled checks.

Another handy device, Cohen added, is to keep a record of any dividend and interest income throughout the year.

When income tax time rolled around, the commissioner said, he merely double-checked his records with his W2 form — the one which listed his government salary at $28,500 yearly — and the statements he received from banks and corporations in which he holds stock.

"It's a bit late for New Year's resolutions," Cohen said, "but people should resolve to have all the information available for income tax time by keep records."

SATURDAY FOOD SPECIAL

Go Easy on Yolks, Butter

by Gaynor Maddox, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—My husband's doctor has warned him to lower his cholesterol. He has a history of heart trouble in his family and he's a big eater. Please give me some practical advice about what I should feed him.

A—If a man's physician thinks his level of cholesterol is too high and wants him to attempt to lower it, these four changes in his diet are recommended: (1) Fewer calories if he is above desirable weight; (2) Less cholesterol in the diet which, for all practical purposes, means less egg yolks; (3) Less saturated fat, particularly less butter and coconut oil; (4) More polyunsaturated fatty acids. That is the advice of Frederick J. Stare, M.D., chairman of the department of nutrition, Harvard School of Public Health.

Dr. Stare comments, "These recommendations are not drastic. Eating less does not mean starvation—just eating less, perhaps 300 to 400 calories a day less than usual."

He adds, "Less egg yolk does not mean no egg yolk. It means two or three egg yolks a week rather than the customary seven to ten. It does not restrict egg whites, an excellent source of high-quality protein. Make an angel cake for him now and then."

"Also, less saturated fat does not mean no saturated fat, such as butter. It means a more generous use of polyunsaturated fats in margarines, shortenings, cooking and salad oils."

Dr. Stare, internationally honored for nutrition research, believes these dietary suggestions can easily be incorporated into normal family menus, using regular supermarket foods.

Symbolic Dinner

A beautifully glazed baked ham is the traditional Easter roast in many parts of the country. There are several types of ham available in the stores, but more and more homemakers express a preference for the ready-to-eat ham because it frees them from long cooking.

You may have your own favorite ham glaze. Even so, this one of crushed pineapple, dark corn syrup and grated orange rind may also appeal to you for the Easter dinner.

PINEAPPLE GLAZED HAM (Serves 25)

- 1 ready-to-eat ham (about 13 pounds)
- 1 (1-pound 4-ounce) can crushed pineapple
- 1 cup dark corn syrup
- 1 teaspoon grated orange rind
- 1-2 teaspoons dry mustard
- Whole cloves

Trim ham, then place, fat side up, on rack in roasting pan. Heat in 325-degree (slow) oven about 1 hour and 15 minutes. Meanwhile, combine pineapple, corn syrup, orange rind and dry mustard. Remove ham from oven; score diagonally, making cuts about 1/2-inch deep, about 3/4-inch apart, across fat surface of ham. Brush ham with some of the syrup mixture. Bake in oven, basting frequently, until ham is well-coated and heated thoroughly, about 45 minutes. Remove from oven; stand with whole cloves, placing one in center of each diamond. Baste once more and heat in oven 10 minutes.

Polly's Pointers

Keep New Pictures In Sight

By Polly Cramer, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY—Our son's excitement was somewhat dimmed when he found that the pictures made with his new camera were to go in a drawer. Now we display them on the refrigerator door while they are new. They are attached with small pieces of freezer tape rolled in a little backward roll so as to be sticky on both sides. The tape does not show. His family and friends are pleased to find themselves a part of our kitchen decor. As new pictures are made, the older ones can be transferred to an album or to where they will stay permanently.—KITTY

DEAR POLLY—I give an added luster to the dust-catching, space-taking "white elephants" the average person accumulates. When they come my way, if I have no immediate use or need for them I think of somebody or some place where they might be welcome. It might be for a child who does not have everything or an elderly person confined indoors. I give the article a special treatment, put on a new coat of paint, an added touch or decoration which will freshen it up and gift wrap it. I present this with very hearty "Best Wishes." Former frowns from wondering what to do with those dust catchers and space thieves have been replaced with songs of happiness from the joy others have received.—MRS. L. E. D.

DEAR POLLY—Often we wonder what to take to a friend or relative who is hospitalized. I am recuperating from an illness and I received over 300 cards but how I wished someone had brought me a letter opener. I always forgot to ask for one when my family came. It is very hard for a weak person to tear open a letter.—NEIL

DEAR POLLY—My Pointer might prove to be a life-saver to someone. If you know your blood type and if you do not, find out, write it on the back of your driver's license or some other card that is always carried in your pocketbook. In an emergency this could save your life.—BERNICE

DEAR POLLY—As a going-away present when we made a trip to Europe, a friend made us red wool tassels, about four inches long, for our luggage. There was an extra one for me to carry in my purse. When the baggage came up for claiming at any airport we were always the first to get ours. Just show the porter the tassel in your hand and he can spot yours no matter how many bags may be alike. Certainly overcomes any language barriers, too.—J. K.

TIMELY QUOTES

The problem with criticism of our policy in Viet Nam is that it is most often destructive criticism. None of the critics have proposed viable alternatives to the policy they are attacking, and I have heard few of the critics accuse Hanoi, Peking and the NLF (National Liberation Front) with the same vehemence with which they have gone after our policy.—Sen Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y.

I like children.—Deputy Sheriff Albert Pina, at Tucson, Ariz., upon becoming a father for the 23rd time

I am neither a hawk nor a dove, but I would suggest that we better be a eagle's today. The eagle does not attack, but the eagle always defends.—Former Vice President Richard Nixon

FIRST FOR COPTER—The already high battlefield value of the helicopter has been increased with development of a technique for aerial refueling. In the first successful test involving a copter and a fixed-wing plane, above, an Air Force C-130 takes on fuel from a Marine Corps KC-130F tanker over Cherry Point, N.C. The refueling experiment took only three minutes and means the range of helicopters can be greatly extended.

Serve Artichokes, New Potatoes

by Gaynor Maddox, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Fresh, seasonal and different—that's what this recipe for artichokes and new potatoes is. That's why it is ideal for the festive Easter dinner.

- ARTICHOKES WITH NEW POTATOES (Makes 6 servings)
- 6 medium artichokes
  - 1 large onion, sliced
  - 2 cloves garlic, halved
  - 3 tablespoons olive oil
  - 3 parsley sprigs
  - 1 bay leaf
  - 3 1/2 cups chicken stock or bouillon
  - 1/4 teaspoon salt
  - Dash pepper
  - 2 pounds new potatoes, pared if desired
- Wash artichokes. Cut off stems at base and remove small bottom leaves. Trim tips of leaves and cut off about 1-inch from top of artichokes, if desired. In Dutch oven or kettle, saute onion and garlic in oil until golden; discard garlic. Add parsley, bay leaf and stock; bring to boil. Add artichokes; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Cover and boil 15 minutes. Add potatoes; cover and cook 30 minutes, or until vegetables are tender. Serve vegetable liquid with artichokes and potatoes or serve with Aioli sauce or sour cream seasoned with chopped chives.

Aioli sauce (Makes about 1 cup): Crush 2 cloves garlic. Add 2 egg yolks and beat until thick. Very gradually add 1 cup salad or olive oil, beating constantly with a wire whisk. Beat in the juice of one lemon and season to taste with salt and pepper.

ARTICHOKES WITH NEW POTATOES sing of spring.

Make Gay Easter Eggs

FONDANT EASTER EGGS are traditional.

by Gaynor Maddox

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Easter isn't Easter without the ubiquitous Easter egg. Whether you buy them, dye them, blow them, or make them, let the children be a part of it.

Almost as much fun as dyeing eggs is cooking up your own homemade Easter "eggs." The recipe here for fondant Easter eggs is easy enough for a teen-ager to make, fun for the little ones to shape. So let everyone get in on the celebration.

SAME GREAT FLAVOR in a BOLD NEW LABEL

FONDANT EASTER EGGS

- 1/4 cup margarine
- 1/2 cup light corn syrup
- 1 pound confectioners' sugar, sifted
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

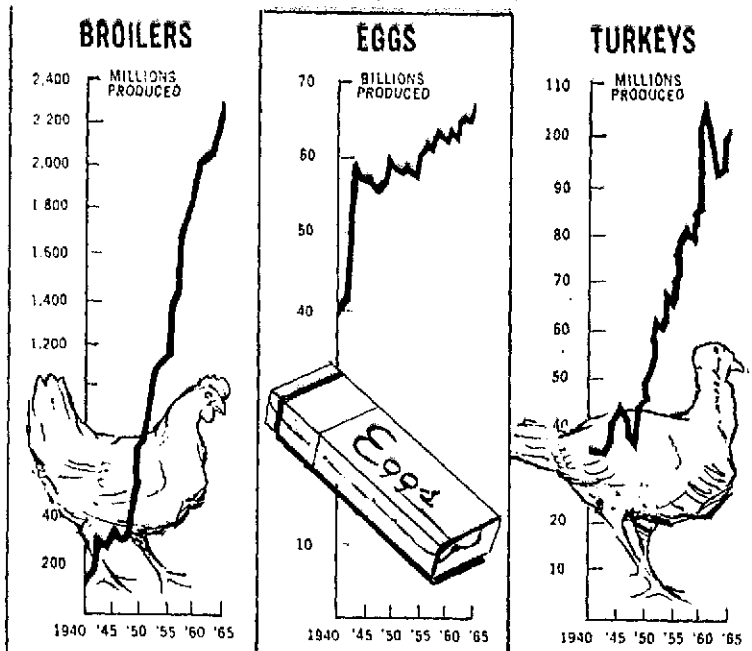

Combine margarine, corn syrup and half the sugar in a 3-quart saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to full boil. Quickly stir in remaining sugar and vanilla. Remove from heat immediately. Stir just until mixture holds its shape. Pour into greased pan. Cool just enough to handle. Knead until smooth. Knead in any desired flavoring and pink, green or yellow food coloring. Shape like eggs with lightly greased hands. (If candy hardens too much before kneading, work with spoon, then knead.) Decorate with thin confectioners' sugar icing, tinted if desired. Put into nests of colored coconut. (Color coconut by tossing with a few drops of food coloring.)

4-H'ers KEEP UP WITH ZOOMING POULTRY INDUSTRY

Consumption of poultry products is expected to take another jump this year as pork and beef production declines, according to statements made at the recent Junior Poultry and Egg Fact Finding Conference at Kansas City, Mo.

Among the young delegates attending the 13th annual event were 4-H Club and FFA members chosen for their poultry projects. They held their own clinics, heard expert poultrymen and toured the vast display of equipment used in the $6 billion poultry industry.

Heisdorf & Nelson Farms, Inc., of Kirkland, Wash., sponsor for the fifth straight year of the national 4-H Poultry program, was one of the exhibitors. Representing the worldwide hatcheries was A. L. Carter, assistant manager of the franchise department.

Mr. Carter talked to the young visitors about careers in the industry. Among the challenging fields, he said, are genetics, nutrition, veterinary science and teaching.

Successful careers also can be found in advertising, transportation, engineering, marketing and accounting, he added, for farm youth who plan to earn their livelihood off the farm.

Arthur Heisdorf, president, also has talked to 4-H members about the steady growth and expansion of the industry within the last two decades. He addressed poultry award winners last December during the National 4-H Club Congress at Chicago.

Forty-four states and Puerto Rico were represented. Mr. Heisdorf presented $500 scholarships to three girls and three boys for having the best 4-H Poultry projects in the entire nation.

Next October six more top 4-H'ers will be named for scholarships, and will be guests of Heisdorf & Nelson at the 1966 4-H Congress. Others will win trips, too, and some 5,000 younger club members will claim county medals of honor.

Projects may be started any time. Some require very little space since they involve only eggs or chicks. Parents wishing to enroll their children in the 4-H Poultry program, or parents wishing to become poultry club leaders are urged by the Co-operative Extension Service to contact their County Extension office.
